DATA DRIVEN

SRTR provides data to transplant community members including: patients, families, living donors, transplant professionals, organ procurement organizations, policymakers, and others interested in the specifics of transplatation.

CONTACT US

For help using the data provided on the SRTR website when making transplant-related decisions, contact us.

Email

srtr@srtr.org

Phone

833.482.6825

SRTR data – here for you.

SRTR

SCIENTIFIC REGISTRY OF TRANSPLANT RECIPIENTS

SRTR strives to be a trusted resource for information about solid organ transplantation in the United States. SRTR seeks to provide information that is acurate, clear, and timely for use by the public.

Questions Frequently Asked by Patients

Informational and Educational Videos

Visit our website for more resources.

https://srtr.hrsa.gov

SRTR SCIENTIFIC REGISTRY OF TRANSPLANT RECIPIENTS

“The SRTR website allows users to search for and compare transplant programs, and make data-driven decisions about care.”

How to Compare Transplant Programs

Transplant Information Access

SRTR provides reports and tools to the transplant community and offers guidance in educating consumers to find the data they need, effectively applying data to their cases, and answering their questions about transplantation.

How can SRTR data help patients, donors, and families?

- Search for and compare transplant programs
- Get information about posttransplant outcomes
- Learn about waiting list outcomes